DEATH AN ACCIDENT SAYS CORONER'S JURY

Guy Woodward Exonerated From Blame for Ross Watson's Death

INQUEST HELD TODAY

Coroner Heffran Conducts Investigation Into Automobile Mishap

That Edwin Ross Watson came to his death from a shock and from internal injuries as a result of being crushed by an automobile Wednesday, October 7, was the verdict of the coroner's jury which investigated the case this morning. The jury exonerated Guy Woodward, driver of the car, from all responsibility.

The following persons testified before Coroner James T. Heffran, who held the inquisition at the rooms of Deputy Coroner Lawrence B. Frye: Brice Ray, Dr. J. C. Enos, John W. Bradshaw, Miss Kate Mangan, Miss Viola Buchanan, S. H. Might and Guy Woodward. Those in the car at the time of the accident were Miss Mangan, Miss Buchanan, Mr. Might and Mr. Woodward. They all testified that the car was running at a slow rate of speed, and that young Watson seemed to fall in front of the car. The automobile was on the right side of the road. Brice Ray who was riding a bicycle behind Watson stated that the young man seemed to cross the road in front of the automobile.

The following is the verdict of the jury: "We the jury find that Edwin Watson came to his death on October 7, 1914, from shock and internal injuries as the result of being crushed by an automobile on the Maple creek road. We further find that said automobile was operated by Guy Woodward. We further find at the time of the accident Edwin Watson was riding a bicycle and that the accident occurred on a curve, and that the operator of the automobile was not responsible it being an unavoidable accident. We exonerate the operator of the machine, Guy Woodward from any responsibility."

The jury was as follows: Allen Mansfield, John F. Laird, John H. Frye, Earl Taylor, S. D. R. and Ira L. Nickeson.

BENTLEYVILLE TO HOLD POULTRY SHOW

Committees Appointed to Arrange For Big Affair in Pigeon Creek Valley--Columbus Man to Act as Judge

The Pigeon Creek Poultry and Petary Association held a meeting instructed to procure the F. & M. Bank Bentleyville for the express purpose hall, where it was mutually agreed of appointing committees to attend to that the poultry show would be held the business end of the poultry exhibit to be held here next January, meeting on the first Thursday in November. The meeting was the first of the month. The poultry exhibit will be held the week of January 11 to 16. The services of the renowned poultry judges Oscar E. Miles, of Columbus, O., have been secured. Mr. Miles has the largest and grandest affair of its kind ever held in the Bentleyville autumn. The officials of the association are laboring earnestly in an endeavor to bring the exhibit to a successful issue. The exhibit will be had a great deal of experience along these lines and will be quite an able judge. He will give the awards and ribbons in entirety.

Committees appointed were: Supplies—H. E. Breniser, Charles McCormick and E. C. Snyder. Catalogue—Charles P. McCormick, Robert A. Johnson, Dr. Harry J. Kirby, Herbert H. Hertzog, C. M. Shank, William J. Sperling, Thomas Tudor and Charles McCormick.

Advertising—Hiram L. Hetherington, Charles P. McCormick and Henry Johnson.

William J. Crawford was appointed as a committee to feed the chickens during the week of the exhibit. Sec-

MAIL BULLETIN SERVICE PLEASES

Bentleyville People Will Thresh Out High School Difficulty Monday

That the bulletin service on the world's series games furnished by the Mail is appreciated was evidenced the first day. The service was promptly given from the window of the Mail as soon as results were known in Philadelphia. Charleroi had results as quickly as Pittsburgh, owing to a loop wire from Philadelphia.

The service Friday was procured from two different sources, the Western Union Telegraph company and the Charleroi Telephone company. A large crowd witnessed the posting of the games.

The bulletin service will be continued every day that Philadelphia and Boston play. According to arrangements made, the score by innings, the batteries and the runs, hits and errors will be supplied.

SHEEP STEALING MATTERS COME UP IN THIS COUNTY

With a charge of stealing sheep opposite his name on the jail blotter Ross Murphy of Independence, a farm hand, was locked up in the county bastile Friday afternoon. Behind the case is a curious story.

It seems that for the past four years sheep have been stolen from several farms about Avella. Within the past two months it is said that between 50 and 60 head of sheep have disappeared. The belief is that the sheep have been disposed of at Turkey Foot, near Steubenville, Ohio.

On Tuesday night of last week 15 sheep were stolen from the farm of Mrs. Clara Frizzell on which William Crawford is the tenant. These sheep were owned jointly by Mrs. Frizzell and Crawford. Officers have since been at work on the case and Friday Murphy who has been employed as a farm hand about Avella, was arrested. He was arraigned before Justice C. P. Buchanan at Avella and remanded to jail for a hearing on next Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Further investigation is being made of the continued raids on sheep and an effort is being made to clear up the robberies of the past few years which have cost the sheep breeders heavily.

Gets Barbed Wire Order

American Steel and Wire Plant at Donora Receives Business From Europe

That there have been orders placed in the United States for barbed wire by European countries was proven Friday when the plant of the American Steel and Wire at Donora got a share of an order to be filled immediately. It is not known the number of reels the Donora mill will supply, but it is supposed to be close to 100,000. The order was received late in the afternoon and men who had at noon been laid off were hurriedly called back at 3. The plant will be worked night and day, excepting Sunday.

COMPLETE REPAIRS AT PLANT

Belle Vernon Glass Factory to be Started

November 1

IS WELL ARRANGED

Extensive repairs have nearly been completed at the plant of the American Window Glass company at Belle Vernon. Fires were lighted on Wednesday of this week and blowing will start about the first of November.

In the repairs everything has been made fireproof and especial attention has been given to sanitation. All buildings have been painted white, arrangements have been made for thorough cleaning at appointed times, offices and rooms equipped with shower baths have been provided for the heads of the different departments and places have been fitted up for the workmen where they may keep their clothing and wash.

The board declares that it will seriously consider the existence of the high school for another year, saying that as much as $1,500 can be saved each year if the tuition and carfare of the pupils are paid to another high school—Charleroi for instance. This however, is impracticable for as large a town as Bentleyville has grown to be.

No. 1 tank which was partly destroyed by fire some months ago is to set the pace in what will prove a long run. Superintendent Thomas McKinley states things are now in the best of shape.

List of Prizes for Four Town Celebration are Announced Today

MUCH INTEREST IN GAME

Well Known Players to be in Game for Bentleyville and Charleroi

Committees are busy working out the odds and ends of details for the big four-town celebration to take place in Charleroi next Thursday, beginning at 9 o'clock in the morning. Last evening the executive committee held a meeting, went over plans and took action to extend a formal invitation to officials of the boroughs of Donora, Belle Vernon, Fayette City, California, Roscoe, Bentleyville, Ellsworth and other towns in Western Pennsylvania to attend the celebration.

Much interest centers in the baseball game that will be a feature in the afternoon. Charleroi and Bentleyville will play. It is thought that "Katsy" Kifer, who twirled one of the recent games with the Indianapolis Federals will be home by that time and he may be asked to pitch. However, a home boy will do the twirling. It may be Osborne, or it may be Pat Swaney will be called upon to do slab duty. The lineup will be much the same as usual. Bentleyville will have some stars and none other than Williams of Cleveland will pitch. McNulty will do their catching.

A list of prizes has been made out by the sports committee for the various events. The list follows:

Modified Marathon race from Ellsworth to Charleroi—First prize, tall or made suit donated by J. W. Berryman and son, a traveling set donated by Weltner's Pharmacy, one dozen cabinet size photographs donated by Babbitt's Studio, second prize, Balmacan top coat donated by R. O. Vetter, handbag donated by J. Teitelbaum, ham donated by John Munch, third prize, Mackinaw coat donated by Murdock and McCarty, gold headed umbrella donated by Greenberg Bros.; fourth prize, Spalding sweater donated by Micht's Book Store, one pair of shoes donated by Riggs and Riggs.

Bicycle race from Ellsworth to Charleroi postoffice—First prize, 1915 model Flying Merkle bicycle donated by C. J. Howard and committee, second prize, umbrella donated by J. Hass; one dozen cabinet size photographs donated by Morris studio, third prize, one pair of shoes donated by J. Beers, case pipe donated by Hennings' pharmacy.

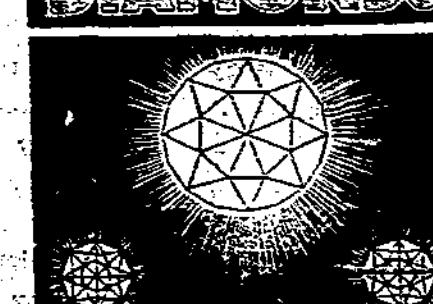

Motorcycle Hill Climbing contest on Fifth street—First prize, loving cup, donated by J. B. Schaefer and the committee; second prize, gold watch donated by Abe Levinson, watch fob donated by Taylor Bros.; third prize, silver shaving set donated by Swifty Billiard parlor, gold watch chain, donated by I. Birken.

First prize, handbag donated by L. Collins, safety razor donated by John's Pharmacy; second prize, season ticket to Lyric theatre donated by John Pennman; pair of ice skates donated

THE JOYS OF JOURNALISM

The belief, long cherished by members of the profession, that here in the United States we have a pretty good lot of newspapers has been dispelled since the war in Europe began. Looking over the ablest and best of them one discovers they are almost without an iota of merit. The communications they publish and the disclaimers they print create a feeling that they are conscienceless, prejudiced and utter strangers to the truth. Unwittingly they have divided or been divided, into two camps. Some of them are pro-British and the rest pro-German. There is nothing else to it—for sundry of their readers tell them so; and those readers are the outside editors who know more than was ever dreamed of in a newspaper man's philosophy or has been carried by cable, wireless or mail from the theater of war, says the Gazette Times.

There are folks in the United States, hailing from foreign shores as descended from the peoples at war who in ordinary times accept without question practically everything their favorite newspaper contains. They agree as a rule, with its editorial policy; they believe its current news is accurate and carefully assembled; they have confidence in its various departments, finance, sporting, women's real estate, political etc., and they rarely impugn to this war, no no! According as the news appears to indicate the success or reverse of one side or the other and the reader's sympathies are inclined, is the paper judged. At least so it seems from the experience of contemporaries in various cities.

Without calling the roll of the many nationalities engaged in this struggle and in editing, reviewing and rebuking American newspapers, let this be said to former subjects of Great Britain and Germany now citizens of the United States and interested spectators of the war: From time out of mind the immigrant from these two nations has always been regarded with respect and reverence by the newspapers of this country. There is no journal of consequence, from one end of the republic to the other which would for a moment think of giving offense to ex-nationals of the United Kingdom and Germany. This is because they are good citizens and good Americans and because the mission of a newspaper is to serve and please; to play fair, and to make money, if it can. Daily newspapers are not published for class. All readers look alike to them. There is more joy in attracting friends, winning admirers and in meriting compliments through what is done in the making of a newspaper than in anything else connected with the profession.

The task of reporting that has been imposed upon the newspapers of the United States today is the most stupendous since type and presses were invented. It is the greatest war in history that is being waged and written. And there is no country on the face of the globe where so much is being printed about it as in our own. There is no censor operating here, no government suppressing, no secrecy laid upon the agencies of intelligence. Our papers are publishing what they get and from where ever it comes in the effort to do their duty by their public. If there is editorial comment which is distasteful to the former residents of a given town, they condone with his bereaved mother in the affair as long as it is here and surviving loved ones. The based upon the news obtainable and whole community will mourn his loss.

is not pure bias, why in the name of all that is reasonable should a paper in the United States not express its opinion in respect to the act of European government or as to its policy or its blunders, without being exposed to the broad charge of insulting these particular American citizens?

The demand of native and naturalized Americans alike is constantly for more independence in the American press. They want editors to talk out and talk plainly and especially do they insist that our newspapers shall not hesitate to criticize and admonish our governments, city, state and national. But let a hastily-written headline assume too much, or an editorial expression refer to something done in war—and, lo, the American press is under spell of prejudice or the dictation of a foreign influence!

Really these friends who are so intensely absorbed in the details of Europe's vast upheaval should have more charity of judgment. The war is being fought over there; it is being reported over here and here alone to the limit of enterprise. Germans and Britons are learning more about it from our newspapers than they could if they were on the other side. And American newspapers as a whole are playing no favorites.

PEOPLE ARE THINKING

Dr. Martin G. Brumbaugh has been provoked sufficiently by the petty mud-slinging and pea-shooting of his Democratic rival to take the aforesaid rival over his knee in schoolmaster fashion, but he simply passes him up by reference to the fact that the Democratic ticket was first named in the White House, then brought into Pennsylvania by interstate commerce and now ratified in part by a section of the Bull Moose contingent.

Dr. Brumbaugh does not mention his opponent by name, but in a speech at Lock Haven his reference to the large coffers of corrupt politicians evoked recent memories of the war chests taken into Clinton county before the Democratic primaries, when every third Democratic voter was a watcher or a paid worker, says the Harrisburg Telegraph.

All over the state the people are thoroughly awake to the importance of the campaign and the utter unfitness of the little men who are berating Pennsylvania and misrepresenting individuals for the achievement of their ambitions. Dr. Brumbaugh is pointing the way to a new day in the Commonwealth and through his splendid addresses men of all parties are seeing the murky haze of hysteria dissolve and roll away while confidence and appreciation of the real greatness of the state are gripping the public mind.

ROSS WATSON
Cruel indeed was the blow which fell with shattering force upon the Watson family of Lincoln avenue Wednesday night when one, the oldest son, was claimed by the angel of death.

The extreme youth of Edwin Ross Watson as well as the suddenness with which he was stricken and the means by which he was removed from his earthly activities, made his death seem all the harder.

Ross was approaching that period of young manhood where enjoyment of life was keenest. He was fully appreciative. Ambitious and energetic at seventeen years, he was already beginning to make his presence felt in the busy industrial world. His ideals were not ordinary. His aims were high and he had the energy and ability to attain the heights to which he aspired.

Cheerful, with a ready smile and a hearty word, Ross easily won friends and what is more and better, kept them. He was of a quiet disposition withal, but his sincerity and singleness of purpose shone steadily from his eyes.

His friends will miss him and to the former residents of a given town, they condone with his bereaved mother in the affair as long as it is here and surviving loved ones. The based upon the news obtainable and whole community will mourn his loss.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

At least one Charleroi was thinking little of baseball affairs and the world's series yesterday when an enthusiast opened a conversation with him.

"It will be a hot contest," said the enthusiast.

"Yes, I believe it will," answered the other seriously.

"Well, who do you think will win?"

"Oh, I don't know, but the way it looks to me it will be Penrose and Brumbaugh."

"Now, sir, I hope we shall have no difficulty in getting you to speak up," said the lawyer, in a very loud, commanding voice.

"I hope not sir," shouted the witness, at the top of his lungs.

"How dare you speak to me in that way?" angrily asked the lawyer.

"Because I can't speak no louder, sir," said the hostler.

"You have been drinking?"

"Yes, sir."

"I should infer so from your conduct. What have you been drinking?"

"Coffee," hoarsely vociferated the knight of the stable.

"Something stronger than coffee, sir, you have been drinking? Don't look at me like that, sir (furiously). Look at the jury, sir! Did you have something in your coffee, sor?"

"Yes, sir."

"What was it?"

"Sugar."

"This man is no fool—he is worse," stormed the counsel. "Now, sir," turning to the witness, "look at me: What besides sugar did you take in ed."

The hostler collected his forces, drew a deep breath and in a voice that could have been heard half a mile away, bellowed out:

"A spoon, an' nothin' else!"

ELECTRIC SPARKS

"After the war then what?" "Another baseball series."

Even the war has faded in significance with the world's series on.

BENTLEYVILLE

Friday afternoon the pupils of the junior and freshman classes of the Bentleyville high school afforded a novel attraction to visitors and other pupils. The two classes are studying Civics unitedly. Prof. C. P. McCormick wished to strongly impress on their minds the manner in which a man is arrested, tried and convicted.

Accordingly pupils of the mentioned classes were made to act as the different borough officers. Fremont Watkins, a freshman, was arrested for failing to pay for some meat and duly tried before a court of schoolmarm. After all due proceedings Fremont was forced, by law, to pay for the meat, to pay half of the costs and to pay his attorney.

Misses Belle and Tiny White, of South Main street, were recent visitors at the home of Mrs. Syndia Ferguson, who is ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. U. G. Ames, of near Vancleville.

Otto Scott, of Washington, an automobile agent for the Ford and the Chalmers was a visitor in Bentleyville Friday.

J. J. Reed and daughter, Miss Louise of Kedd's Mill, spent a portion of the week attending the bridge opening in Brownsville.

Miss Lulu VanVoorhis of near Hartkirke entertained at her home Friday evening in honor of her house guest Miss Mabel Troutman, of Finleyville. A very acceptable and pleasant evening was spent, at the close of which a sumptuous luncheon was served.

Misses Belle and Tiny White, of South Main street, were recent visitors at the home of Mrs. Syndia Ferguson, who is ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. U. G. Ames, of near Vancleville.

Last May the following letter was addressed to each of the candidates for Congress, State Senate and Assembly, seeking nominations at the primaries to be held May 19th regarding their position on the Temperance issue:

"Dear Sir:—Please state for publication so that we, and through us the voters of Washington County, may know positively where you stand on these two questions;

First: Will you, if elected, support, urge and vote for or against a COUNTY Local Option Bill?

Second: Do you favor or do you not favor having a National Prohibitory Amendment submitted to a vote of the States as provided by the Constitution (The Sheppard-Hobson Joint Bill)?

W. H. Temple, Washington

Rev. H. N. Cameron, Washington, Pa.
Dear Mr. Cameron:—In reply to your recent letter I wish to say that I expect to vote for the Hobson-Sheppard resolution now pending in congress, which provides for the submission of a national prohibition amendment to a vote of the states.

I am in favor of a county local option law for the state of Pennsylvania.

Yours very truly,
H. W. TEMPLE,
Washington Party Candidate for Congress.

S. A. Barnum, West Brownsville

Rev. H. N. Cameron, President The United Temperance League.
Dear Sir:—Yours of May 5th at hand and contents noted.

I am in favor of having a National Prohibitory Amendment submitted to a vote of the states as provided by the Constitution of the United States and embodied in the Sheppard-Hobson Joint Bill.

Yours truly,
S. A. BARNUM,
Democratic Candidate for Congress.

STATE SENATE

J. W. Stewart, Greene County

Jefferson, Greene County, Pa., May 7, 1914.
Henry N. Cameron, Washington, Penna.
Dear Sir:—I have your inquiry of May 5th, submitting two propositions for my approval or disapproval. I assure you, sir, that it is not new for me to state that I am in favor of both of these propositions without reservation.

Most respectfully,
J. W. STEWART,
Candidate for Senator in the General Assembly on the Democratic and Washington Party tickets.

THE FOLLOWING CANDIDATES REFUSED to reply to the above letter or to state their position at any time of this vital public issue:

FOR CONGRESS
W. H. BROWN, of New Castle.

FOR STATE SENATE
JOHN W. HALLAM, of Washington.

Of course, the voters have no power to compel expressions on any subject from candidates but the thousands of Washington county citizens who regard the booze question an important one.

MUST DRAW THEIR OWN CONCLUSIONS AND VOTE ACCORDINGLY

The liquor dealers and their friends are not asleep. The refusal to reply to the above letter by five candidates shows where they stand on the liquor question.

The liquor dealers have picked the men they want put into office. They are working day and night and spending thousands of dollars to secure their election.

Are you helping them by your following and your vote or your indifference?

Do you wish the liquor interests to dominate the county and state? If not—

Vote for the Men Who Have Declared Themselves to Be Right on the Liquor Issue.

GREENE COUNTY COUPLE HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Mr. and Mrs. Clutter, ofnear Hopewell, were caught under their automobile Thursday afternoon when the machine went over an embankment into Pursey Creek near the residence of Norman Orndoff in Greene county. Mrs. Clutter is in the Waynesburg hospital and the extent of her injuries is not known. She lay an hour before she could be removed and it is feared that she may be injured internally. Mr. Clutter was caught under the car and was also badly bruised but is able to go about.

Mr. and Mrs. Clutter were on their way to the public sale at the Orndoff farm above Oak Forest. A light shower had fallen, making the roads slippery. At a sharp turn of the road the car skidded, turned turtle over the creek bank and landed in the stream. Both occupants were caught under the machine but it happened that the stream was dry at this point. With some difficulty Mr. Clutter freed himself from the machine but he could not lift the car from the body of his wife. His cries for help brought no response. Securing a lever he managed after great effort to raise the car enough that the body could be pulled from under it.

Fordyce Blaker of Waynesburg came along about that time and Mr. and Mrs. Clutter were placed in Mr. Blaker's car and taken to Waynesburg.

MRS. JOHN GAREY DIES AFTER AN EXTENDED ILLNESS

Mrs. John Garey, aged 63 years, died this morning at 8:30 o'clock at her home at 604 Fallowfield avenue. Mrs. Garey had been ill for some time.

Mrs. John Garey is survived by her husband, five daughters and two sons: The daughters are: Mrs. William Appleton, of Kokomo, Ind.; Miss Margaret Watkinson of Indianapolis, Ind.; Miss Cleenie Davis Watkinson of Marion, Ind.; Mrs. Joseph Mathews, Youngstown, Ohio and Miss Jennie Watkinson of Charleroi. A Very Tight Style with Slanting Pockets and Straight Front, $20

If you appreciate smartness and the distinction which results from wearing a decided novelty, spend $20 for the "Beverly." It is strictly a young man's style and it has all the unusual features found in Fashion Park work. The vest closes with four buttons and has a wide graceful collar. It is cut very low to assure ample space for the wide cravat which is now enjoying a great vogue. And, all for $20.00.

The young fellow, keen and alive, with a quick eye for the good things of life wear a Fashion Park style. He's "strong" for the shaped-in waist and high, narrow shoulders. The slim trousers add to his trim appearance and give ginger to his gait.

OBITUARY

Following an illness of two years due to the infirmities of his advanced age, Andrew J. Lincoln, long resident of Greene county and a veteran of the Civil war died Thursday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at his home in Waynesburg. He was 81 years of age.

Mr. Lincoln was born in Luzerne township, Fayette county and went to Waynesburg 54 years ago, this having since been his home. On September 7, 1862, he was united in marriage with Miss Maria Gibbons and four days later he marched away to the war as a member of Company A, 18th Pennsylvania Cavalry. All Mr. Lincoln's active days were spent in coal mining but of recent years he had led a retired life. He was a member of the Methodist Protestant church of Morrisville.

Mr. Lincoln leaves his wife and three children, Mrs. Anna Franks of Fayette county; James W. Lincoln of Point Marion and T. F. Lincoln of Waynesburg.

Funeral services in charge of the Rev. George C. Horter and the Rev. Mr. Rush will be held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Interment will be in the Greenmont cemetery.

CHARLEROI WINS FOOTBALL GAME; WAGNER INJURED

Charleroi high school football team won here Friday afternoon from North Union high school, by the score of 50 to 0, in a loosely played, one-sided game. The local boys outplayed the Fayette county aggregation at every point.

football and did not attempt any trick plays. A feature of the game was a Charleroi high played straight 55 yard run made by Lowstuter. He fell when within a foot of the goal line. Several long runs were made.

North Union had a poor interference.

At the beginning of the second half Coach Grimm put in the scrub team, making an almost complete change in Charleroi's lineup. Earl Wagner, who went in the second half to play left half, fell after playing a few minutes and dislocated his left arm at the elbow. He will probably be out of the game for a few weeks.

Charleroi made six touchdowns in the first half and two in the second half. The scrubs were put in. Lowstuter kicked two goals. The line-up:

ANSWER THE CALL

Charleroi People Have Found That This Is Necessary.

A cold, a strain, a sudden wrench.

A little cause may hurt the kidneys.

Spells of backache often follow.

Or some irregularity of the urine.

A splendid remedy for such attacks.

A medicine that has satisfied thousands.

Is Doan's Kidney Pills, a special kidney remedy.

Many Charleroi people rely on it.

Here is Charleroi proof.

Mrs. E. Mahoney, 823 McKean avenue, Charleroi, Pa., says: "For a long time one of the family complained of pains across his back and any bending caused sharp twinges to dart through his body. He was often in misery. He finally read of Doan's Kidney Pills and got a supply at Piper's Pharmacy.

They soon relieved the pain in his back and he continued until he was benefited in every way. I have also taken Doan's Kidney Pills and they have helped me very much. My former endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills still holds good."
